Your Gateway to the Chinese Elderly Care Market

The elderly population aged over 60 has now surpassed 240 million, officially accounting for 17.3% of the entire population of China. Those over 60 in China will exceed 300 million by 2025 and 480 million by 2050. The Chinese government is therefore explicitly encouraging foreign companies to enter the burgeoning elderly care market now to assist with the challenge of caring for its rapidly ageing population. In 2018, the Ministry of Civil Affairs prioritized "Opening the Elderly Care Market" as one of its core objectives for the year. As a result, more and more companies from abroad are now entering the Chinese market to share their expertise and meet the accelerating growth in demand for care products and services.

With 18 years' robust growth, CHINA AID has developed into one of the most authoritative and respected elderly care events in China. It is your key to unlocking the future of care in China.

Exhibitor Reviews

ottobock.

- Joy Wang, Market Manager Mobility Solutions, Ottobock (China) Industries Co., Ltd.

"We have attended a lot of exhibitions representing Ottobock, but this exhibition gave us a huge surprise. There are many manufacturers and a lot of visitors. We are surprised by the scope and quantity of those attending and we never thought before that so many people would come to visit our booth. We have become an 'eye-catching' booth on the show floor, so we are spending a lot of time explaining our new product."

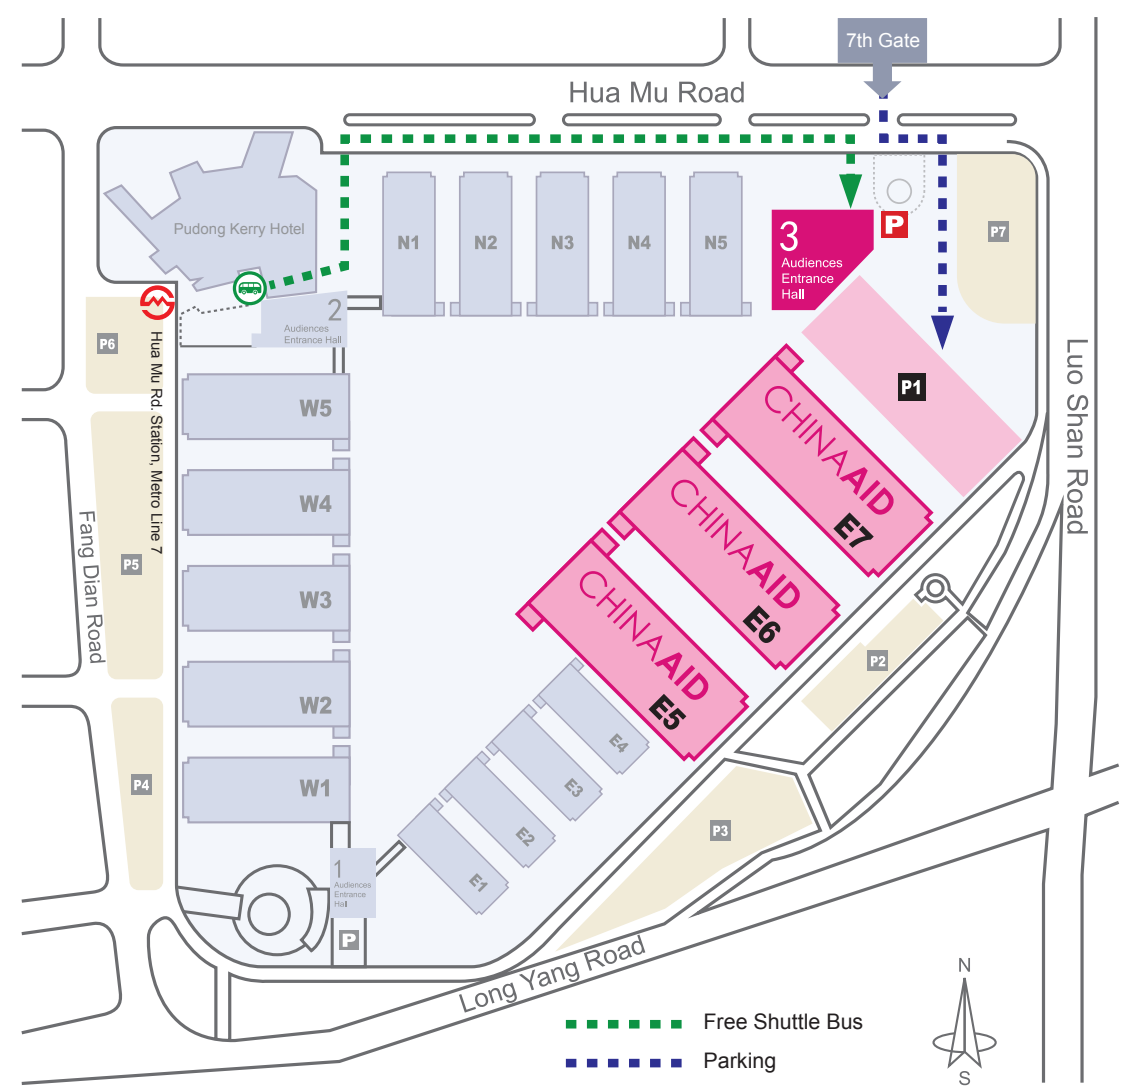

智造电气·用心于众

- Jeff Liu, Business Development Manager, Legrand China

"It is our 4th year of participation at China AID. Each year we feel that the quantity and quality of visitors are improving, but this year it was improved the most significantly. Besides the organizer's efficiency, we feel that there are obviously a greater number of projects in the market. We have already decided to continue participating in this exhibition next year."
